

Lents Neighborhood Association

Minutes for General Meeting, June 28 , 2016

Lents Activity Center (Seventh-Day Adventist Church)

8835 SE Woodstock Blvd.

Acting Chair Judy Low called the meeting to order at 7:00pm and the Board members introduced themselves.

Low stated that the first order of business was the issue of ratification of the Board's action of filling vacant Board seats by appointment at the June Board meeting.

At-Large Member Gary Primack made a motion to defeat the ratification of the appointments made at the last Board meeting, which were for the Transportation Chair and a Member At-Large position. Ken Luchini seconded, and the membership discussed the issue.

Some attendees stated that prospective board members should have been contacted first about the election, and Low stated that the appointments were made in opposition to her original agenda; Land Use Chair Potter noted that some volunteers attended the Board meeting expecting an election. Primack called for the question. There were 18 votes in favor of defeating ratification and 29 opposed, and the motion failed.

Potter then read the following statement from Nick Schillaci-Kayton:

"I started in transportation with some part time shuttle bus driving for Providence Health & Services. Then, I got some bachelor's degrees at UO: Planning, Public Policy & Management and Political Science. I was the student body Transportation Coordinator for a year when I was getting these. After that, I worked at Lane Transit District (LTD) for a couple of years. My departments were Service Planning and Marketing, as well as Long Range Planning. Finally, I worked for a short time at Ride Connection. I believe in multiple well-developed transportation options. In alphabetical order, I bike, drive, fly, ride, and walk on a regular basis. One area of improvement I see for the Lents neighborhood is streets and their sidewalks, particularly along the main roads leading to the town center (Ellis, Harold, 104th, etc). I enthusiastically follow transportation issues around the neighborhood, region, country, and globe like the transit geek that I am."

Kim Willis-Simmons then moved to ratify the election of Nick Schillaci-Kayton as Transportation Chair, Mike Collins seconded, and the membership discussed the motion, including concerns voiced by Kris Dennis and William Powell. The motion passed with a majority of votes, with less than ten opposed.

Treasurer Rebecca Binford made a motion to ratify the election of Lee Rimar as At-Large Member, Dhyana Westfall seconded, and the membership discussed the motion. Members, including Krista and Kris Dennis, Joyce Beedle, and Jennifer Young had concerns about the election process.

Rimar spoke about his background, qualifications, and intentions to work on technology and social media issues for the LNA.

Doug Wilder expressed concerns about Rimar, and Barbara Bader suggested adding more At-Large positions. Primack called for the question. The motion passed, with 35 votes in favor of ratifying and 20 votes opposed.

Low asked for volunteers to form a Nomination Committee for the September 2016 elections and asked volunteers from the general membership to indicate their interest on the sign-in sheets. She then read the following statement, thanking Nick Christensen, who had been appointed to the Board as Chair at the June Board meeting but had withdrawn his candidacy: "I would like to acknowledge Nick Christensen's prior contributions to the LNA. Although, he has officially declined his appointment, I hope he will continue to serve as an advisor or consultant on the ongoing issues facing our neighborhood, as he has institutional knowledge that will add depth to our deliberations on those issues."

Informational Items

Potter introduced Nick Sauvie from Rose CDC and Jennifer Hoffman from Carleton Hart Architecture to discuss the Woody Guthrie Place project, located at 91st Ave. and SE Reedway. Hoffman shared the plans for a four-floor complex with 64 units of both affordable housing and market rate units, with rent ranging from $350-1300. Hoffman also stated that the plans include 28 parking spaces, possible solar panels depending on a renewable energy grant, bicycle parking, and an outdoor play area. The presentation included architectural renderings of the proposed building and its floor plans.

Attendees asked questions about the construction labor used; Hoffman stated that they were working with Walsh Construction, and that it would be union labor, including local hires.

Dan McElligot asked if local families would be given increased consideration and Binford asked about the definition of affordable housing; Sauvie stated that families with young children would be a priority.

Attendees also asked about the durability of the project, and Hoffman stated that it would be built to last for an absolute minimum of 30 years. Binford also asked about lighting, maintenance, and cleanliness; Hoffman stated that the trash and recycling area will be enclosed within the building.

Sauvie asked attendees to email him with any further questions or concerns.

Potter and Schultz stated that they communicated all of the concerns and complaints that they had heard from the community, including the many dangers on the Springwater Trail, such as fires, crimes, and environmental destruction, but had received no new information or response.

At the request of attendees, he will speak to the fire department on the issue of fires along the Springwater Trail.

He also shared copies of the April East Portland Neighborhood Association newsletter and stated that the next issue would be out in July.
